WHY THE GAY CITY TREMBLES.

While order has been restored in Paris there is still an unquiet feeling consequent on the approach of the an-niversary of the fall of the Bastile Friday, and on the fact that one year ago to-day Ravachol, the Anarchist leader, was executed. It is feared that on one of these occasions the disaffected at the present juncture, on the part of element in the city may try to make trouble, especially as the 14th is a gen eral holiday

One mite of humanity was literally famed back to life. It was born in a m, dle room in Cannon street; the parents tailors by trade, worked, slept and ate in the windowless closet, which contained a bet, sewing-machine, one chair, and a charceal furnace, on which the from were heated and the scarty pacity on the part of the gripman, and contained a bel, sewing-machine, one chair, and a charcoal fornace, on which the Irons were heated and the scattly meals prepared. The tailer sat in bed, while the wife did the statching, and the unfortunate baby boy had a bunk on the floor close beside the charcoal furnace. Between the carbonic acid gas and the consuming heat of the room the poor fellow nearly died. When discovered the "shop" was broken up under threat of arrest, and the mother was sent away to fan her child to life again. Instead of the "pound of cure," the doctors have been satisfied to provide the "penny's worth of care." They have not been above the distribution of 5-cent and 10-cent favors for milk, car fare, sonp, disinfectants, ice, &c. This rigid economy and discretion is practiced not from necessity, but as a guard against even the incentive to panperism.
